One of my favorite professors in college was Dr. Grayson. I was primed to enjoy his class because of my love of world history. However, I found Dr. Grayson's teaching gift enhanced the experience even more. He could lecture for an hour with no notes. There were no questions that he was ill-prepared to answer. While I soaked up the content of his lectures, his most memorable contribution was how he reframed the way I viewed exams.

Before every exam he would say, "Now is your chance to show off what you know." This statement was striking to me. I had always done the required reading and studiously reviewed my copious notes. And yet the words "test" and "exam" held a negative stigma in my mind. I was susceptible to the nervous energy that my classmates felt before taking them. Instead of focusing on what we knew, we would fixate on what we might not know that the exam would expose. And yet Dr. Grayson's perspective that an exam was a chance to demonstrate what we did know changed my thinking about exams. I began to relish the chance to show Dr. Grayson that I had mastered the material. Instead of worrying about possible gaps in my knowledge, I began to grow in confidence that I could display the fruits of my committed study.

Perspective matters. A glass half empty is an assessment from the perspective of what is missing; while a glass half-full is from the perspective of what is present. One represents pessimism and the other optimism even as both are looking at the same thing.

Like taking an exam or looking at the contents of a glass, reaction to change is governed by how one frames the situation. Change can be met with fear and anxiety or hope and optimism. We can catastrophize or get excited about all the things that could go right.

This March our worship times will be changing. On the 22nd, the sanctuary service will start at 9am while the service in the Family Life Center (FLC) will begin at 10:20am.

Like any change, our reaction to the new times will largely be governed by how we frame them. Will the change be viewed as a disruptive event of loss or framed as an opportunity for growth and enhancement? It depends on how we frame it.

Sunday mornings are like a delicate ecosystem. A change in the environment has rippling effects across it. However, on balance, I believe the new worship times will be good for Mineral Springs Methodist Church. Worship can take place in an unhurried manner in the sanctuary and without the worry over when the sermon will take place in the FLC. More space will be available for new Sunday School Classes because there will be multiple time slots. The congregation will have a senior pastor available before, during, and after each service instead of the currently distracting toing and froing. Our culture of starting early and finishing early—compared to many churches—will be preserved.

We are making this change together. There will be some wrinkles that need to be ironed out and hiccups along the way. However, there might be some serendipitous blessings awaiting us. Join me in praying for them!

Pastor Keith

"I am the Light of the world! Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."
John 8:12

Hello Spring Kids parents and church family!
I hope you are all doing well. I am still in need of volunteers. We have three classes you can choose from to teach or help. We have great groups of kids. The ages are pre-k, K-3rd grade and 4/5 graders. If you choose to teach, I will have your booklet ready for you in advance, so you can be able to prepare for your lesson. If you will meet me in the CLC on any Sunday before your scheduled day, I will have the booklet for you. We have some fun and special lessons in the coming weeks and months. We would love for you to be a part of teaching our wonderful Spring Kids!

Our memory verses for this month are:

3/1/26 All scripture is breathed out by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, that the men of God may be complete, equipped for every good work.

2 Timothy 3:16-17

3/8/26 For whoever wants to save their life will lose it, but whoever loses their life for me will find it.
Matthew 16:25

3/15/26 And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose. Romans 8:28

3/22/26 Blessed are the pure in Heart, for they will see good. Matthew 5:8

3/29/26 Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest heaven! Luke 19:38

We are going to make a change to where you drop off and pick up kids for Spring Kids. Starting on March 15th, we will only use the side door and the double glass doors in the CLC. We will no longer be using the classroom doors. This helps ensure the safety for our teachers and the children and it cuts down on interruptions to class.

I believe that is all I have for you this month. If you do want to help or teach please contact me by text at 980-721-7162 or email me at springkidsmsmc@gmail.com.

Love and Prayers always,
Miranda Young

Mineral Springs Preschool

Spring is just around the corner, and our preschoolers are excitedly preparing for our upcoming Spring Program! The children have been working hard learning their songs and practicing each week. We can't wait to share this special time with our families and church community as we celebrate the joy and new life that spring brings. Join us in the FLC on March 31 at 6:30

In chapel this month, we are continuing our focus on the Fruit of the Spirit with Goodness and Faithfulness. Our Bible stories remind us that just as flowers and trees grow in the spring, we grow our faith and love as well. The children are enjoying singing worship songs together and learning simple lessons about God's love in ways that are meaningful to them.

We are also excited to share that the preschool will be hosting a Yard Sale on March 28! This will be a wonderful opportunity for fellowship and fundraising to support our preschool programs. We would love your support—come by and shop!!!!

Thank you for your continued prayers and support of our preschool ministry. It is a blessing to watch these little ones learn and grow each day!

WELLNESS CIRCLE

Creating Meaningful Family Time in a Christian Home

Let's face it, we live in a world filled with busy schedules, digital distractions, and constant noise. Every week I have people ask how can I change to have a Christian impact on family while competing with the distractions? I often encourage people to create intentional family time each day. This is one of the most powerful ways to strengthen a Christian home. Family time isn't just about being in the same room; it's about cultivating connection, nurturing faith, and building a foundation that children carry into adulthood, and hopefully pass on to their families.

One of the most effective ways to anchor family life is through shared spiritual practices. Setting aside a few minutes each day for family devotions, whether reading Scripture, praying together, or discussing a verse can help everyone refocus on what truly matters. These moments don't have to be long or formal. Even a short prayer before school or a nightly gratitude circle can create a rhythm of faith that shapes the home's atmosphere.

Another key element is establishing tech-free zones or times. With phones and screens constantly competing for attention, carving out spaces for conversation allows family members to truly see and hear one another. Dinner time is a great place to start. Ask a simple question like "Where did you see God at work today" can spark meaningful dialogue.

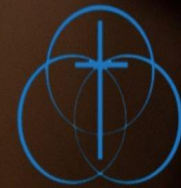

Serving together is also a powerful way to build unity. Whether volunteering at church, helping a neighbor, or participating in a community project, shared acts of service teach children compassion and remind the family that faith is lived out through action.

Finally, don't underestimate the value of simple fun. Game nights, outdoor walks, baking together, or storytelling create memories that knit hearts together. Joy is a gift from God, and families thrive when they make space for laughter.

Don't be surprised to feel some push back in the beginning. Change is hard, but in this case, well worth the investment. Creating family time in a Christian home doesn't require perfection—just intention. Small, consistent choices can transform the home into a place of peace, connection, and spiritual growth.

Blessings,

Scout Sunday – Rescheduled to March 8, 2026

Scout Sunday, traditionally celebrated each February, has been postponed at Mineral Springs Methodist Church and will now be observed on Sunday, March 8, 2026. Scouts from Pack 18 and Troop 18 will join us in worship as they express their gratitude for the church's many decades of support and the generous use of our facilities. Their presence represents more than 80 years of Scouting history connected to our congregation.

Proceeds help Scouts attend Summer Camp and participate in year-round program activities. Both cash and card payments will be accepted.

SOME THOUGHTS ON THE IMPORTANCE OF TENDING YOUR SOUL

Ecclesiastes chapter three was one of my dad's favorite passages. I've often found that interesting because much of Ecclesiastes speaks about the vanity of this life.

The following passage is also often requested to be read at funerals—especially these verses:

“There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens: a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance...” (Ecclesiastes 3:1-4)

The dyads of comparison continue through verse 8—but if we stop at that verse, we miss the full measure of how God uses these apparently “opposite” experiences. The author, King Solomon, continues:

“What do workers gain from their toil? I have seen the burden God has laid on the human race. He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in the human heart; yet no one can fathom what God has done from beginning to end.” (Ecclesiastes 3:9-11)

Because we're made in the image of God, and God is eternal, people know in their hearts that they'll live forever. We don't have to be convinced of it; we know it at our cores. But how long is eternity?

If God told a little bird to gather every grain of sand on Earth and carry it to the Moon, then take both to Venus, then all three to Saturn, and so forth, by the time that little bird gathered up the entire universe, it would be 9:35 in the morning—on the first day of eternity.

That's why the most important thing we can ever do is to secure the salvation of our souls. Jesus said:

“What good is it for someone to gain the whole world, yet forfeit their soul?” (Mark 8:36)

Jesus also said:

“Some will go away to eternal punishment, but the righteous to eternal life.” (Matthew 25:46)

You should be most concerned about where you'll spend the longest, not just the next few years.

Tend your souls wisely, my friends! A soul is the only part of us that will live forever!
